

How to refer to Mental Health Services for Older People

The Mental Health Service for Older People provides assessment and treatment to clients who are suspected or have a confirmed diagnosed mental health problem. This can include a patient with a diagnosis of dementia/depression/delirium/psychosis. The teams are able to offer support with behavioural management/delirium management/medication advice/capacity assessment/diagnosis/managing risks associated with behaviour/education and advice on mental health issues to clients, carers, professionals.

